Painted in 1544 for the church of San Martino, it has recently been acquired by the Vatican Museums. Take this gallery to the right, through the West Wall to Lobby B.

Museum Bench

The simple lines of the Museum Bench make a perfect seating solution in museum galleries. Available with a wood or upholstered seat. Its durable construction offers a long lasting piece for heavy-use institutions. Tie in the wood finish color to your exhibit's aesthetic. Viewing Rococo period art? Try our Petal or Greige wood finish color. Available in 36", 60" and 84" lengths.

Museum Bench

Add bold or subtle embellishments on the bench sides for an additional color and texture option. Available in standard or custom patterns.

Vancouver 2 Bench

The Vancouver 2 Bench offers a fully upholstered seating option, perfect for main lobbies or other areas in a museum. Available in a squared metal leg or tapered solid maple leg. Available in two or three seater lengths.

Cafeteria and coffee shops

The Flick Collection is a sound choice for museum cafeteria settings. This stacking chair is also available in bar and counter seat heights. Many color options in the shell and base are offered adding to the chair's versatility.

Cafeteria and coffee shops

The Vancouver and Eisenhower Collections offer a timeless look for common areas, cafe or back office needs in museums. Available in many styling options in finish, fabric and surface materials.

For the children

TMC offers a multitude of seating and table options for children. Pictured below is our Plover Table and Plover Stools with the iconic bent plywood legs. Scaled for children; built for adults. Round, square and rectangle tables in many sizes are available with coordinating seat heights of 12", 14" and 16". Our Farm Table at left, provides ample space for experiments, art projects and other activities.

For museum working or maker spaces, consider our Lottie Chairs in varying seat heights —12", 14", 16" and 18".

Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York City

The Met specified our Plover Lilypad Stools with an upholstered seat for an area in their library. With a larger diameter (20" DIA or 26" DIA), these stools provide ample room for two children or an adult with child to sit together. Easy to group together for quick gatherings.

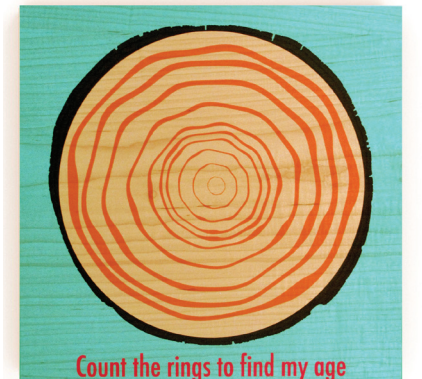

Wabash Historical Museum created a quiet space named The Meadow for children with sensory needs or disabilities. The Meadow is imbued with rich greens, soft textures and subtle light. Pictured: Freestanding Trees, Tree Learning Corner with its friendly squirrel, Tree Appliques, Wall Murals, Learning Panels and Learning Desk with Nature Series Tablets.

For science museums and nature centers

TMC creates engaging furniture solutions tailored for STEM environments in science museums and nature centers. From integrated DUPLO play and magnetic surfaces to spacious STEM tables for hands-on exploration, each piece is designed to support discovery. Gratnell storage bins keeps materials organized, while interchangeable Learning Panels with nature and STEM themes bring flexibility and lasting visual impact and learning.

For science museums and nature centers

Our custom wall murals on wood, combine artistry with learning. Pictured here is a California commission illustrating the creatures that inhabit the varying ocean zones. Along side is a key with interesting facts about the creatures found in the mural. A combination of I Spy, fun facts and discovery.

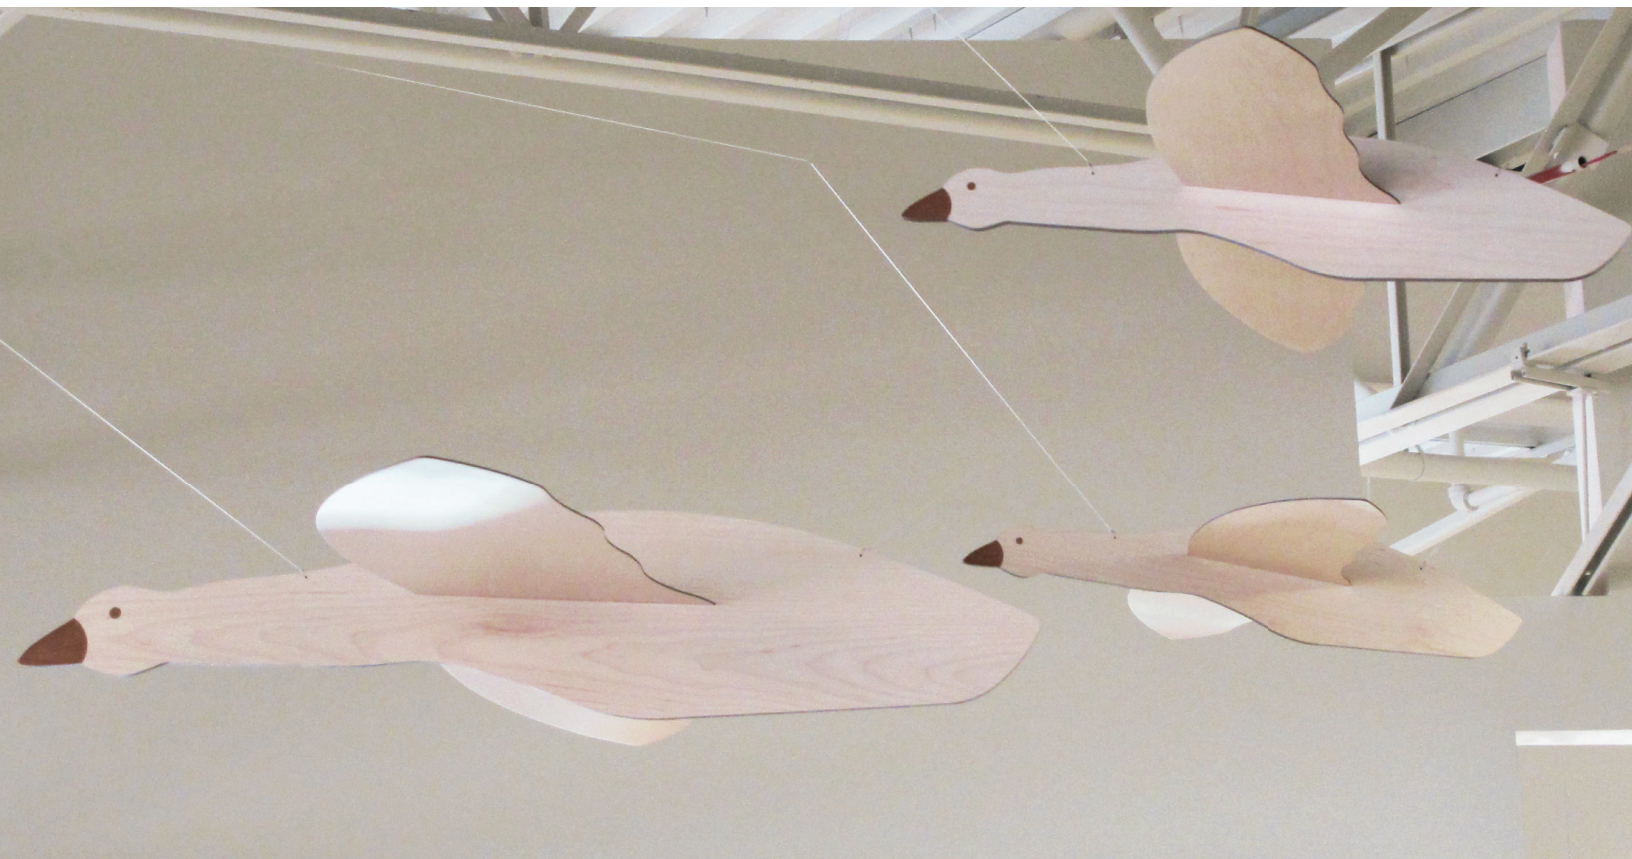

Ceiling accents and defining spaces
